HENRY STINSON - COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Figure -Studio and Plein Air: This painting workshop gives you a great opportunity to learn the fundamentals of impressionistic painting from a highly respected artist and instructor. Henry will lecture on the impressionistic approach to figure painting helping you gain a maximum understanding of color and relationships as you develop a solid foundation for creating paintings. Each session students will be given individual instruction and will work directly from life. Mornings are in the studio painting the nude figure and afternoons will be spent outdoors painting the clothed figure, plein-air. This workshop is a must for artists of all levels interested in improving their figure painting abilities.
